— CHAPTER TWO 02/06

What we have, today.

Six ways to taste the shop. Everything cut, wrapped, and labelled by the person who cut it — which is often Nora, sometimes Sam, sometimes whoever answered the phone.

01

THE SHOP

Cut-to-Order Wedges

Thirty-odd wheels at any given time. Say a word and we'll cut, wrap in beeswax paper, and write the age on the corner.

02

PAIRINGS

PAIRING • BOARD

The Pairing Board

Five cheeses, two cures, honeycomb, quince, and a tiny ramekin of the strangest jam you've had. For the table, or one brave person.

FOR / TWO $68

03

TOURS

THE AGING CAVE

Tour the Aging Cave

Ninety minutes underneath the shop. We open three wheels, pour three pours, tell three stories. Ends with a rind souvenir.

PER / GUEST $45

A shop on 6th Ave, by accident.

We leased the space to sell firewood. Seven years and three hundred wheels later, there is still no firewood.

Cheese Inc. began in 2019 as a side shelf in a coffee shop on 6th Ave. It got out of hand. Today we import from eleven countries, make three cheeses ourselves in a low cedar room behind the shop, and open the door to anyone who wants to smell it. There is a cat named Gruyère. She is a bad mouser and a better greeter.

THE MONTHLY BOARD BOX • SUBSCRIPTIONS SHIP APR 03 NEXT

Four cheeses. One surprise.

The first Friday of every month, we pack a box. Four pieces chosen the morning of, one letter from Nora describing the choices, one wildcard that's usually the best thing in it.

- Four cheeses.
Roughly 300g total. Enough for a weekend.
- A letter.
What, from where, and what to drink.
- Cold-shipped.
Out Friday, at your door by Monday.
- Cancel anytime.
Pause in summer. Come back in fall.
